THE PAYMENT OF WAGES ACT, 1936

INTRODUCTION

With the growth of industries in India, problems relating to payment of wages to persons employed in industry took an ugly turn. The industrial units were riot making payment of wages to their workers at regular intervals and wages were not uniform. The industrial workers were forced to raise their heads against their exploitation.

In 1926, Government of India wrote to local governments to ascertain the position with regard to the delays which occurred in the payment of wages to the persons employed in industry. Material so collected was placed before the Royal Commission on Labour which was appointed in 1929. On the report of the Commission, Government of India re-examined the subject and in February, 1933 the Payment of Wages Bill, 1933, was introduced in the Legislative Assembly and circulated for the purpose of-eliciting opinions. A motion for the reference of the Bill to a Select Committee was tabled but the motion could not be passed and the Bill lapsed. In 1935 the Payment of Wages Bill, based upon the same principles as the earlier Bill of 1933 but thoroughly revised was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on 15th February, 1935. The Bill was referred to the Select Committee. The Select Committee presented its report on 2nd September, 1935. Incorporating the recommendations of the Select Committee, the Payment of Wages Bill, 1935 was again introduced in the Legislative Assembly.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

In 1926 the Government of India addressed local governments with a view to ascertain the position with regard to the delays which occurred in the payment of wages to persons employed in industry, and the practice of imposing fines on them. The investigations revealed the existence of abuses in both directions and the material collected was placed before the Royal Commission on Labour which was appointed in 1929. The Commission collected further evidence on the subject and the results of their examination with their recommendations will be found on pages 216-221 and 236-241 of their Report. The Government of India re-examined the subject in the light of the Commission's Report and in February, 1933 a Bill embodying the conclusions then reached was introduced and circulated for the purpose of eliciting opinion. A motion for the reference of the Bill to a Select Committee was tabled during the Delhi session of 1933-34, but was not reached, and the Bill lapsed. The present Bill is based upon the same principles as the original but has been revised throughout in the light of the criticisms received when the original Bill was circulated.

ACT 4 OF 1936

The Payment of Wages Bill, 1935 having been passed by the Legislative Assembly received its assent on 23rd April, 1936. It came on the Statute Book as THE PAYMENT OF WAGES ACT, 1936 (4 of 1936).

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Relating to the Amendment of 2005

The Payment of Wages Act, 1936 was enacted with a view to ensuring that wages payable to employed persons covered by the Act were disbursed by the employers within the prescribed time limit and that no deductions other than those authorised by law were made by them. The last amendment was made in

10 (4) The Punjab Payment of Wages (Procedure) Rules, 1965

1982 and several provisions of the Act have become obsolete over the years. Many proposals have been received by the Government for amending various provisions which are creating practical difficulties in enforcement of this Act. In order to bring this law in uniformity with other labour laws as also to make it more effective and practicable, it is proposed to make, inter alia, the following changes:—

- (i) Enhancing the wage ceiling of Rs. 1600 per month to Rs. 6500 per month: The then existing ceiling of Rs. 1000 per month was last revised to Rs. 1600 per month in 1982. Since then a large number of employed persons have gone out of the purview of the Act due to successive rise in wages levels resulting from rise in the cost of living. Thus, with a view to covering more employed persons, it is proposed to enhance the wage ceiling from Rs. 1600 per month to Rs. 6500 per month.
- (ii) To substitute the expressions “the Central Government” or “a State Government” by the expression “appropriate Government”: In Parliamentary enactments relating to labour, other than the Payment of Wages Act, 1936, the enforcing authorities are either the Central Government or the State Governments depending upon the nature of industry. However, for implementing the Payment of Wages Act, 1936, matters are referred to the State Governments and quite often action required to be taken by them is delayed. In order that this law is in conformity with the other labour laws, it is proposed to introduce the concept of “appropriate Government”.
- (iii) Removing the ambiguities/weakness from the extant provisions of the Act and prescribing more effective grievance redressal: Over the years, it has been noticed that certain provisions of the Act have been differently interpreted thus leading to administrative difficulties in implementing the same. In order to remove ambiguities, appropriate changes are being proposed in sections 3, 7, 8 and 15 of the Act which respectively deal with responsibility for payment of wages, deductions from wages fines and claims in certain cases.
- (iv) Strengthening compensation and penal provisions of the Act: The penal provisions of the Act have become almost insignificant due to passage of time as well as decrease in money value since these provisions were last amended in 1982. It is, therefore, proposed to make the penal provisions more stringent by enhancing the quantum of penalties by amending section 20 of the Act.

2. The Bill seeks to achieve the above objects.

9. Deductions for absence from duty.—

(1) Deductions may be made under clause (b) of sub-section (2) of section 7 only on account of the absence of an employed person from the place or places where, by the terms of his employment, he is required to work, such absence being for the whole or any part of the period during which he is so required to work.

(2) The amount of such deduction shall in no case bear to the wages payable to the employed person in respect of the wage-period for which the deduction is made a large proportion than the period for which he was absent bears to the total period, within such wage-period, during which by the terms of his employment, he was required to work:

Provided that, subject to any rules made in this behalf by ¹[the appropriate Government], if ten or more employed persons acting in concert absent themselves without due notice (that is to say without giving the notice which is required under the terms of their contracts of employment) and without reasonable cause, such deduction from any such person may include such amount not exceeding his wages for eight days as may by any such terms be due to the employer in lieu of due notice.

²[Explanation.—For the purposes of this section, an employed person shall be deemed to be absent from the place where he is required to work if, although present in such place, he refuses, in pursuance of a stay-in strike or for any other cause which is not reasonable in the circumstances, to carry out his work.]

10. Deductions for damage or loss.—

 - (iii) The Wages Court is not at all competent to determine whether Variable D.A. under the agreement is payable to any workmen this being a subject-matter for the court constituted under Industrial Disputes Act. The jurisdiction of the Wages Court is to entertain application only in two items of cases, namely, of deductions and fine not authorised under sections 7 to 13 and of delay in payment of wages beyond the wage periods fixed under section 4 and the time of payment laid down in section. The question whether the employees are entitled to get Variable D.A. or not cannot be treated as deductions, and as such, the Wages Court has no jurisdiction to entertain this claim; French Motor Car Co. Ltd. Workers' Union v. French Motor Car Co. Ltd., 1990 LLR 366.
 - (iv) The workman cannot be denied the wages when he reports himself on duty but the work is not taken from him by the employer; J.D.A. v. Labour Court, (1990) 60 FLR 81 (Raj).
 - (v) Where the company was closed without any proper notice to the workmen and the workmen claimed wages for the period they were kept out of employment, section 25FFF of the Industrial Disputes Act was not applicable and the claim amounted to wages and not compensation and the authority under the Payment of Wages Act had jurisdiction to determine the same; Banjarwala Tea Estate v. District Judge, 1981 Lab 1C 370: (42) FLR 165: (1981) I Lab LN 371.

- (2) A single application may be presented under section 15 on behalf or in respect of any number of employed persons belonging to the same unpaid group, and in such case ¹[every person on whose behalf such application is presented may be awarded maximum compensation to the extent specified in sub-section (3) of section 15].
- (3) The authority may deal with any number of separate pending applications, presented under section 15 in respect of persons belonging to the same unpaid group, as a single application presented under sub-section (2) of this section, and the provisions of that sub-section shall apply accordingly.

17. Appeal.—

- (1) ²[An appeal against an order dismissing either wholly or in part an application made under sub-section (2) of section 15, or against a direction made under sub-section (3) or sub-section (4) of that section] may be preferred, within thirty days of the date on which ³[the order or direction] was made, in a Presidency-town ⁴[] before the Court of Small Causes and elsewhere before the District Court—
- (a) by the employer or other person responsible for the payment of wages under section 3, if the total sum directed to be paid by way of wages and compensation exceeds three hundred rupees ⁵[or such direction has the effect of imposing on the employer or the other person a financial liability exceeding one thousand rupees], or
- ⁶[(b) by an employed person or any legal practitioner or any official of a registered trade union authorised in writing to act on his behalf or any Inspector under this Act, or any other person permitted by the authority to make an application under sub-section (2) of section 15, if the total amount of wages claimed to have been withheld from the employed person exceeds twenty rupees or from the unpaid group to
